WORK EXPERIENCE:

October 2010–Current LGBTQ Counseling Services, Seattle, Washington
Mental Health Clinician, Private Practice
Working with the LGBTQ population is my passion first, and my livelihood second. I began my own private practice with a specialty niche in working with the LGBTQ community. It has been a long-held dream to start my own mental health practice, which has come to fruition over the last year. I bring empathy, knowledge, respect, and compassion to each client I serve. Additional information can be found at seattlelgbtqcounseling.com.

August 2010–Current Survivor Outreach Services, Joint Base Lewis-McChord, Washington
Regional Coordinator (ARNG)
SOS provides substantial support to families of fallen soldiers. It is my duty to ensure that families receive the most current resources and have access to long-term financial and emotional support after the loss of a family member in combat. I coordinate events, advocate for entitlements, triage mental health crises, and keep the family connected to other survivors.

February 2006–Current YMCA Family Services CCORS, Seattle, Washington
Family Advocate/Crisis Intervention Specialist
As a Family Advocate for Children's Crisis Outreach Response Service (CCORS), it was my responsibility to assist families in crisis situations. After the initial crisis is managed, it is the advocate's role to case manage the family through counseling, connection to resources, and general support. I am currently serving as a crisis intervention specialist. It is my responsibility to provide the initial outreach to families, including immediate crisis intervention/strategies. In addition, I am responsible for the authorization of voluntary and involuntary hospitalizations for youth in King County.

September 2008–2009 Seattle Counseling Service, Seattle, Washington
Mental Health Clinician
As a mental health clinician for Seattle Counseling Service, I maintained a caseload of 30-50 clients. This included individuals, couples, and family therapy. I conducted, on average, two clinical assessments every week and participated in weekly individual and group supervision. I worked with people on depression, internalized homophobia, substance abuse, domestic violence, and a host of other struggles.. It was my mission to offer clients respect, knowledge, compassion, and hope. I completed one year of internship and was then hired as a full-time clinician.

March 2006–2009 HIV Vaccine Trials Unit, Seattle, Washington
Recruiter
As a member of a recruitment team, it was my role to seek out individuals to participate in a worldwide vaccine trial study to help eradicate HIV/AIDS. Together, we educated the LGBTQ community on the importance of our trial study and the value of participating in this global effort.

September 2004–2006 YMCA Family Services, Seattle, Washington
Family Support Specialist
As a Family Support Specialist, I was a vital part of a treatment team that provided support to children in therapeutic foster homes through the YMCA Family Services program. As an FSS, I spent time working one-on-one with youth, building life skills, planning therapeutic activities, teaching small groups, and advocating on their behalf.

September 2003–2004 Child Protective Services, Tacoma, Washington
Internship
This internship consisted of making investigations of alleged abuse against children, the monitoring of visitations between children in dependency and their parents, the implementation of resources and services to empower clients, and, above all else, the protection of children.

September 2002–2003 Child Welfare Services, Tacoma, Washington
Case Aid
I was responsible for monitoring visitations between children in dependency and their guardians. I mentored the high-risk youth on my caseload through various outings in the community to facilitate life-skills development.

VOLUNTEER EXPERIENCE:

August 2011–Current Big Brothers Big Sisters, Seattle, Washington
Big Brother
I have completed the necessary training to be a Big Brother. I am currently waiting for my little brother. I am also working with the VISTA volunteer of Big Brothers Big Sisters in an effort to provide resources to youth who are being bullied in schools, as well as information on how to become a strong ally.

May 2011–Current Seattle LGBT Commissioner, Seattle, Washington
Commissioner
The Commission's role is to effectively address and present the concerns of gay, lesbian, bisexual, and transgendered citizens of Seattle to the Mayor, City Council, and all city departments. The Commission recommends legislation, policy, programs, and budget items to the Mayor, City Council, and city departments.

Sept. 2002–May 2004 Social Work Club, Parkland, Washington
Secretary
It was the mission of the Social Work Club to ensure that the values and ethics of our classroom work were being utilized in the outside community. I served as secretary. Together, we organized food drives, volunteered at local events, advocated at the state legislative level, sponsored needy children abroad, put together food baskets for the holidays, and recruited local businesses to donate hygienic and educational items to be sent to youth around the world.

Summer 2002 Reeman Hall, Tacoma, Washington
CASA Volunteer
I was trained and later appointed as a court-appointed Special Advocate. In this role, I advocated for the rights of children placed in state custody.

September 1999–2000 Community Youth Services, Olympia, Washington
Diversion Board Member
I served on a juvenile diversion board. Members of the community met with juvenile offenders and their guardians to interview and determine what the offense was, why the juvenile had committed it, and what services needed to be mandated to repay the community and bypass court.

Summer 1999–2000 Capital Medical Center, Olympia, Washington

I was responsible for assisting nurses and doctors in providing supplemental services. I was assigned the role of organizing all other teen volunteers.
