New appointment

Hannah will be a senior at the Northwest School next year, where she's involved with the Junior Statesmen of America, a service trip to El Salvador and where she plans to be involved with the Peer Mentoring program next year. Outside of school she volunteers with the Northwest Immigrant Rights Project, a summer camp for special-needs children at Providence Hospital in Everett, and she hopes to take part in a UN internship in her native Iran over the summer to improve living conditions for women who are living wit HIV. She's interested in being on the commission because of the importance of elected officials hearing from youth about the topics that are important to them, and the issue she's most passionate about is social justice.
