Background: Grace Dwomoh has had a strong, lifelong passion for community engagement, which she partially attributes to her family's immigration from Ghana to the United States when she was a young girl. As a Community Relations Coordinator at Zulily, she serves as the single point-of-contact for the company's donation requests for the corporate philanthropy program that she created and directs. She actively cultivates relationships with local and national non-profits that well-suit zulily in this current role. After graduating with a sociology degree from George Washington University, her desire to serve her community led her to serve as a City Year Corps member at Wing Luke Elementary School in Seattle. Through that experience, she grew to understand challenges that certain students face and can attest to the value of programs like the Pacific Science Center's Science on Wheels. She has witnessed the importance of Seattle Center's accessibility through her own public service, and will be an excellent extension to the Seattle Center Advisory Board. Both the Seattle Center Advisory Board and Get Engaged program are excited to welcome Grace's energy, motivation, and commitment to public involvement.
