- Managed team analytical studies: energy models, daylight simulations, light models, total cost of ownership evaluations
- Developed custom calculation tools to evaluate efficiency measures, renewable energy technologies and green building design strategies
- Managed the LEED certification process for over 50 projects at all levels (up to Platinum)
- Guided architects and engineers in applying building performance standards such as ASHRAE 90.1, Advanced Buildings Core Performance, IESNA RP-33, and ASHRAE 62
- Developed and led over 40 professional trainings for sustainable construction practices, passive design, LEED application review and analytical design management
- Trained LEED Certification Body reviewers for the Green Building Certification Institute
- Presented on sustainability topics at numerous conferences and professional gatherings
- Assisted in proposal development and client interviews for new projects

Integrated Building and Construction Solutions (IBACOS)

Pittsburgh, PA

(2003) Building America Intern

- Ran energy simulations and assisted in systems design of single-family home prototypes
- Developed contractor training presentations on residential construction best practices
- Assisted in physical testing of building tightness (blower door, duct leakage)

U.S. Department of Energy Solar Decathlon Competition

Washington, D.C.

(2001-2002) Team Leader, Carnegie Mellon University

- Led 30+ student team in the design and construction of a modular net-zero solar home
- Ran energy simulations, sized and installed solar systems, assisted in home fabrication

EDUCATION

Master of Building Science

Los Angeles, CA

(2005) University of Southern California

- Thesis: Climatic Alignment of Architectural Design Strategies Through an Analysis of Native Plants in Southern California

Bachelor of Architecture

Pittsburgh, PA

(2003) Carnegie Mellon University

- Awards: Alpha Rho Chi Medal, Design Studio Commendation
