Biography of Maggie Walker

Maggie Walker was born and raised in Summit, New Jersey. She attended Oak Knoll School until 1968, when she moved to Greenville, South Carolina where she met Doug Walker. Both attended Vanderbilt University, then married and moved to Seattle to attend the University of Washington where Maggie earned degrees in both History and Journalism and Doug did graduate work in Mathematics.

For fifteen years, Maggie worked in the commercial furnishings and design industry in the Northwest, while Doug started WRQ, a software firm. Since the birth of her only child, she has continued as a design and art consultant, as well as becoming very active in the non-profit community.

She is a Past President of the Board of Trustees of the Henry Art Gallery at UW and a past Chair of the Woodland Park Zoological Society's Board of Directors. Maggie is also past Chair of the Board of the Washington Women's Foundation, and is Immediate Past President of the Seattle Art Museum board. She and Doug were co-founders of Social Venture Partners.

Maggie is Immediate Past Chair of the Seattle Foundation board. She is a board member of the University of Washington Foundation, chairing the Advisory Board of the College of the Environment. She is Past President of the ARCS Foundation Seattle Chapter and Past Chair of the Board of the Museum of History and Industry. Maggie also served as Chair of the Bullitt Foundation Board of Directors for six years and was Co-Chair of the Prosperity Partnership's Cultural Task Force. She is a past Vice-President of the board of Washington Audubon and Seattle Children's Home. She and Doug also co-chaired the Campaign for Lake Union Park, and are currently co-chairing the North Cascades Initiative for the Wilderness Society. Recently, Maggie was re-appointed Co-Chair of the Central Waterfront Committee for a 2 year term and joined the board of Global Partnerships. She is Chair of the newly formed Friends of Waterfront Seattle non-profit, created to support the waterfront project.

Doug and Maggie share a commitment to the environment, education and the arts, supporting those areas through the Walker Family Foundation at the Seattle Foundation.
