West Seattle Commercial Club.

Seattle, Wash., April 20, 1937.

Whereas, The new municipal golf course now under construction in West Seattle was designed by H. Chandler Egan, and is being completed with the approval of the Seattle Park Department under plans and instructions issued by Mr. Egan before his untimely death, and

Whereas, H. Chandler Egan for a longer period than any other player has exemplified the champion, the gentleman and the true amateur sportsman in the world of golf, and

Whereas, He had attained rank as America's foremost golf course architect and was recognized by his associates as an artist, engineer and craftsman of the highest rank, with a nice appreciation of the practical and the beautiful, and a broad understanding of a fair test of golf desired by persons who will play this course, and

Whereas, We believe that in honoring Mr. Egan, we thereby honor the city of Seattle and perpetuate the name of the man who represents to the American public golf in its finest sense, therefore

Be it resolved, That the West Seattle Commercial Club request the Seattle Park Department to designate what is now known as the West Seattle Golf Course, the CHANDLER EGAN MEMORIAL GOLF COURSE.

Everett W. Penton,
Chairman, Recreational Project
Committee.

Approved: Ernest B. Erickson,
