Seattle Police Department

Robert L. Hanson, Chief of Police
Charles Royer, Mayor

March 31, 1978

The Honorable Charles Royer
Mayor
City of Seattle

Dear Sir:

Submitted herewith is the 1977 Annual Report of the Seattle Police Department. This report is prepared in conformance with Article XXII, Section 12 of the Charter of the City of Seattle.

This report contains a brief summary of activities of the Police Department during the year 1977. A statistical compilation of information has been included for administrative purposes, and for use as a reference by municipal, governmental, educational and social groups, and other law enforcement agencies.

Very truly yours,

CHIEF'S MESSAGE

ANNUAL REPORT

As my career with the Seattle Police Department draws to a close and I present my fourth and final annual message, I would like to take this opportunity to thank the men and women of this department for their friendship and support. Working with you over a career spanning thirty years has been a rewarding and enriching experience that will not be forgotten.

1977 was a banner year for the Seattle Police Department and we have made strides of which I am especially pleased. Preventable crimes went down in all categories. While we experienced an increase in some crimes, burglary declined by 10%, larceny by 4%, and most significantly, robbery by 19%.

I salute you,

Although the members of the Seattle Police Department contributed greatly toward these results, we could not have achieved such notable success without the cooperation of the citizens in what has been described by some as "the most liveable city in the United States". While directing efforts toward crimes that are preventable in nature, the department joined forces with the community to combat Seattle's burglary problem by establishing the Patrol Alarm Project. The alarm unit, patrol officers, the Community Crime Prevention Program, and neighborhood citizens all working in concert were responsible for the success of the project and the subsequent reduction in burglaries.

As a result of the installation of alarms in private residences on a temporary basis, the program has contributed to 55 arrests since its inception. This works out to approximately one arrest for every 11.9 installations and credit must be shared jointly by a concerned, aware public and a dedicated patrol force. In addition to reducing incidents of burglary, the project was effectively employed in situations involving rape, arson, crime scene protection, and larceny. Most important, however, it has been an excellent vehicle for direct community involvement in crime prevention and reduction.

Another achievement of which I am particularly proud is the success of the Robbery Hidden Camera Project. In the past year this project was responsible for the successful identification of 24 suspects in 33 applications and cleared over 250 cases including robberies, burglaries, larcenies, and forgeries. I am sure that knowledge of the existence of surveillance cameras was responsible, at least in part, for a 50% decrease in the number of commercial robberies in Seattle during 1977. This project was also a result of cooperation between the citizens of this city and their police department.

I know that you will go on to even greater achievements in the years to come and I am sure that my successor will be as proud of you as I am. I salute you, one and all.

R. L. HANSON
Chief of Police

1977 Complaints Investigated by

During 1977, the Internal Investigations Section staff received 719 contacts from citizens with complaints or inquiries regarding police actions.

Of these, 384 were informational requests generally resolved by an inquiry into the incident and an explanation to the complainant.

Referral cases consisted of 199 of the total contacts. This type of case involved a formal complaint, but generally of a minor nature that was resolved at the supervisory level.

Investigation cases consisted of 112 of the total contacts. These cases were complaints from any source wherein the allegation warranted a complete investigation. The 112 complaints involved 145 allegations of misconduct, accusing a total of 159 officers. Twenty-six of the complaints were lodged by members of the black community, and five were by other identifiable minorities. Twenty-one of the complaints involved traffic arrests, and forty involved arrests other than traffic. Six complaints stemmed from an incident occurring at an off-duty hour.

Civil claims consisted of 24 of the total contacts. These included case files prepared for the City Attorney concerning incidents involving the police wherein a civil claim had been filed.

Upon completion of the investigation cases, the 145 allegations of misconduct were classified into one of the following categories:

1. UNFOUNDED: The preponderance of evidence indicated that the event described simply did not occur.
2. EXONERATED: The preponderance of evidence indicated that the event described did occur, but the actions taken were lawful and proper.
3. NOT SUSTAINED: There was not a preponderance of available evidence to either prove or disprove the allegations.
4. SUSTAINED: The allegation was supported by a preponderance of evidence and the actions were in violation of some law, policy, rule or procedure governing the conduct of department employees.

SEATTLE TRAFFIC FATALITIES PAST 10 YEARS

1977 FATALITY FACTS

There were 42 persons killed in 39 fatal traffic accidents in Seattle during 1977, thirteen fewer traffic deaths which is a 24% decrease from the 55 persons killed in 53 fatal collisions during 1976.

A breakdown by type of collision indicates that 17 persons were killed in collisions of two or more motor vehicles, 12 involved hitting a fixed object and 13 were pedestrians.

Ten of the thirteen pedestrians killed were male, three were over 65 years of age and one was a child under 7 years. Three of the pedestrian fatalities were at intersections, one in a marked and two in unmarked crosswalks. Nine occurred during hours of darkness.

During 1977, Rainier District-Beacon Hill was the area with the largest number of fatal traffic collisions with eight.

The month of March, with 7 deaths, had the largest number of traffic fatalities. August had none and June only one.
