CITY CLERK

Seattle Rule 5-127

Sales to, and by, the State of Washington, counties, cities, school districts and other municipal subdivisions.

(1) Business license tax on sales to governmental entities. In computing the business license tax, no deduction is allowed to a seller with respect to sales to the Federal Government, its departments and institutions, to the State of Washington, its departments and institutions, or to counties, cities, or other municipal corporations of the State.

(2) Enterprise activity defined. An "enterprise activity," for the purposes of this rule, is a government activity financed and operated in a manner similar to private business enterprises. The term includes activities which are generally in competition with private business enterprises and are over fifty percent funded by user fees, such as utility payments, park or recreation rentals and fees. The term "enterprise activity" does not include activities which are exclusively governmental.

(3) Business license tax on sales by governmental entities. The City of Seattle may not impose the business license tax on sales made by the federal government and its subdivision, or on sales made by the State of Washington and its subdivisions, including other municipalities. However, all City of Seattle departments, divisions, and its other municipal subdivisions engaging in business through enterprise activities are subject to tax (SMC 5.45.110) as follows:

(a) Service and other business activities. Amounts derived from enterprise activities consisting of or from admission fees to special events, user fees (lockers, checkrooms), moorage fees (less than thirty days), and the granting of a license to use real property are reportable under the service and other business activities classification of the business license tax and taxable upon the gross income derived from services rendered by them to others.

(b) Retailing. Amounts derived from enterprise activities consisting of or from fees for participation in amusement, recreation or physical fitness activities (pay for play), user fees for off-street parking and garages, and charges for the sale and rental of tangible personal property are reportable under the retailing classification of the business license tax and taxable upon the gross proceeds of sales.

The retailing tax also applies to charges for the sale of books, rules, regulations, and other materials sold from an inventory of such things, even though the charge is required by law or covers only the costs of production and distribution.

The retailing tax does not apply to charges for the production, searching, or copying of public records or documents by such public agencies charged with the responsibility to keep and provide such information.

(c) Extracting or manufacturing. Extracting or manufacturing activities, if conducted as an enterprise activities are taxable upon the value of products manufactured or extracted.
