PROCLAMATION

- Whereas, the YMCA of Greater Seattle has been strengthening communities through youth development, healthy living and social responsibility for more than 135 years; and
- Whereas, the Y works with families to give kids the tools necessary to build healthy lifestyles and strives to be a leader in helping children develop positive health habits; and
- Whereas, the Y nourishes the healthy growth of children, the continual fortification of families and each individual's strength of character; and
- Whereas, the Y provides communities with tools and opportunities to become healthier and safer and to support the well-being of neighbors; and
- Whereas, Y programs—from camping, swimming, child care, parent-child programs, youth sports to teen leadership—have touched the lives of more than 74,500 different children and teens in the past year; and
- Whereas, the YMCA of Greater Seattle lives its mission every day, "Building a community where all people, especially the young, are encouraged to develop their fullest potential in spirit, mind and body"; and
- Whereas, the Y helps people of all ages, financial circumstances, ethnicities, religions and abilities lead healthier lives; and
- Whereas, the Y's Healthy Kids Day welcomes all families to take part in an annual celebration of healthy lives and lifestyles;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Michael McGinn, Mayor, proclaim Saturday, April 16, 2011 to be

YMCA Healthy Kids Day

in the City of Seattle and urge all to join me in saluting the Y's work to strengthen our community through youth development, healthy living and social responsibility.

Michael McGinn
Mayor
