

Name taken from adjacent school which was named for the Shoshone Indian woman who accompanied Lewis and Clark Expedition. Sacajawea* means "bird woman". [Hunger had forced the Shoshones from the Rocky Mts. (of Montana) on a hunting expedition to the plains where Sacajawea was captured by Plains Indians. Their chief lost Sacajawea in a dice game to a Frenchman, Charbonneau, who took her East to Fort Mandan, † On their Westward journey, Lewis and Clark arrived at Mandan in 1804 and took her and her child with them, as a guide and so she could rejoin her tribe. Her presence with the party prevented Indian attacks, for "a woman with a party of men is a token of peace." Her husband accompanied the party as interpreter.

* This spelling used on tombstone in Reservation in Wyo.; other spellings use a "g" in place of "j"
