City of Seattle

Gregory J. Nickels, Mayor

Office of the Mayor

February 10, 2004

Honorable Jan Drago, President
Seattle City Council
City Hall, 2nd Floor

Dear Council President Drago:

According to analyses conducted by the federal government, Seattle faces one of the highest risks for terrorist attack due, in great part, to the critical assets that lie within its urban area and the density of population in areas near potential terrorist targets. With this in mind, I made a commitment to work toward making Seattle the most prepared city in America. My strategy to accomplish this goal was presented to the City Council in December 2003. The attached proposed Council Bill will appropriate $20,236,834 in federal homeland security resources that were awarded under the Urban Areas Security Initiative (UASI) Grant Programs 1 & 2 to implement projects that will further the City's preparedness strategies.

Seattle is one of seven cities awarded funding under UASI 1, and one of thirty cities funded under UASI 2. Ordinance 121283, passed by the City Council on September 22, 2003, authorized the Police Department to apply for funding from these grants. That ordinance further appropriated an initial allocation of funding to City departments for immediate resource needs pertaining to conducting vulnerability assessments and providing urgently needed equipment. The funding package set forth in this legislation reflects a multi-disciplinary approach that recognizes the need for prevention, protection, and response capability. Months of work by City departments and our urban area partners have resulted in assessments of our risk, a strategy to respond to those risks, and a budget plan that implements that strategy. In addition to providing necessary equipment and training for our first responders in the Police and Fire Departments, the package provides equipment, training, and infrastructure protection for the Department of Information Technology (DoIT), Seattle Department of Transportation, Seattle City Light, Seattle Public Utilities, Seattle Center, the Department of Planning and Development, Seattle-King County Public Health, and the City's partners at the Washington Department of Transportation and the University of Washington. Furthermore, resources for a project to connect electronic communications among Emergency Operations Centers in Seattle, King County, Pierce County, Snohomish County and the State of Washington are appropriated to DoIT, which will manage the multi-jurisdictional project.

The training, equipment, and infrastructure protection in this funding package are vital to advancing Seattle as the most prepared city in America. Thank you for your consideration of this legislation. Should you have questions, please contact Dave Chavez at 206-386-0057.

Sincerely,

GREG NICKELS
Mayor of Seattle

Legislation Title:

AN ORDINANCE relating to security from terrorism; authorizing increases to existing appropriations under Urban Areas Security Initiative (UASI) Grant Program I and II in the 2004 Budget; accepting money when received; adding positions; and amending the 2004-2009 Adopted Capital Improvement Program; all by a three-fourths vote of the City Council.

- Summary of the Legislation: This legislation increases existing Budget Control Level appropriations to City Departments to carry out the purpose of grant agreements authorized by Ordinance 121283, and adds two positions. In addition, the legislation amends the 2004-2009 Adopted CIP by adding two projects, and amending an existing description of a third project.
- Background: Seattle is one of seven cities that were awarded funding under UASI Grant Program I, and one of 30 cities awarded funding under UASI Grant Program II. Ordinance 121283, passed by the City Council on September 22, 2003, authorized the Police Department to apply for funding from these grants. That ordinance further appropriated an initial allocation of funding in the amount of $1,597,300 under UASI I and $150,000 under UASI II, for immediate needs of conducting vulnerability assessments and providing urgently needed equipment to City departments.

The projects to be implemented with the funds will further the City's strategy for preparedness by appropriating $20,236,834 in federal homeland security resources that were awarded under the UASI Grant Programs I and II. In addition to providing necessary equipment and training for first responders in the Police and Fire Departments, the package provides equipment, training and infrastructure protection for the Department of Information Technology (DoIT), Seattle Department of Transportation, Seattle City Light, Seattle Public Utilities, Seattle Center, the Department of Planning and Development, Seattle-King County Public Health, and the City's partners at the Washington Department of Transportation and the University of Washington. Furthermore, resources for a project to connect electronic communications among Emergency Operations Centers in Seattle, the State of Washington, and King, Pierce, and Snohomish Counties are appropriated to DoIT, which will manage the multi-jurisdictional project.

Notes:

has been made available to the City under UASI Grant Programs I and II, and therefore, loss of funding to improve the City's overall ability to prevent, respond to, and recover from threats or acts of terrorism. In addition, not implementing this legislation would likely result in the City of Seattle and contiguous jurisdictions being ineligible to receive additional funding that is expected to be made available under additional phases of the UASI Grant Program in future years.

- What are the possible alternatives to the legislation that could achieve the same or similar objectives? The only possible alternative would be to use scarce City resources to provide urban area security equipment, training and infrastructure protection, and to implement other elements of the urban area homeland security strategy that was authorized by Ordinance 121283.
- Is the legislation subject to public hearing requirements? No
- Other Issues: There will be ongoing costs associated with the maintenance and operation of new computer applications and communication systems being developed by DoIT for several City departments.
