CITY OF SEATTLE

ORDINANCE 125934

COUNCIL BILL 119607

AN ORDINANCE relating to heating oil; imposing a tax on heating oil service providers; directing the expenditure of heating oil tax revenues; directing relevant City departments to create a plan for regulating the use of heating oil tanks; adding a new Chapter 5.47 to the Seattle Municipal Code; and amending Sections 5.30.010, 5.30.060, 5.55.010, 5.55.040, 5.55.060, 5.55.150, 5.55.165, 5.55.220, 5.55.230, and 6.208.020 of the Seattle Municipal Code.

WHEREAS, The City of Seattle (“City”) has a goal to become a carbon-neutral city by 2050 and has adopted a strategy for achieving this goal through Resolution 31447, adopting the 2013 Seattle Climate Action Plan; and

WHEREAS, as part of its 2013 Seattle Climate Action Plan, the City set a 2030 goal for reducing emissions from residential buildings by 32 percent from 2008 levels; and

WHEREAS, emissions tracking from 2008 to 2016 through a citywide greenhouse gas inventory shows the City is not currently on track in per-year carbon emission reductions to meet these targets; and

WHEREAS, since the City adopted the 2013 Climate Action Plan in 2011, the dangers posed by climate change have become clearer and more alarming, as revealed in the 2018 report released by the United Nations Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change, which synthesized over 6,000 peer-reviewed studies and predicted the collapse of natural ecosystems and catastrophic climate change unless climate pollution is eliminated globally by 2050; and

WHEREAS, recognizing the climate crisis as a moral imperative, the City Council adopted Resolution 31895 in August 2019, establishing the goals for a Green New Deal for Seattle and identifying actions necessary to meet these goals, which include eliminating

1 climate pollution by 2030, addressing current and historical injustices, and creating 2 stable, well-paying jobs; and

3 WHEREAS, in keeping with the Green New Deal for Seattle's commitment to a just transition 4 for workers whose jobs currently depend on the fossil fuel industry, if the shift away from 5 the use of oil heat results in substantial job losses, the City commits to finding additional 6 resources to support worker training and other investments, as necessary; and

7 WHEREAS, the use of heating oil in the City emits carbon pollution that would be substantially 8 lessened if heating oil users converted from oil-fired heating systems to electric systems; 9 and

10 WHEREAS, refrigerants used in electric heating systems typically contain hydrofluorocarbons
11 (HFCs) that, if not disposed of properly, contribute to global warming and the City 12 Council commits to advocating for statewide legislation to expedite the reduction of 13 HFCs with high global warming potential in consumer appliances, such as electric heat 14 pumps; and

15 WHEREAS, underground heating oil tanks should be analyzed for the risk they pose, as many 16 could be beyond their useful life, posing an environmental hazard to soil, surface water, 17 groundwater and property as a result of leaking tanks; and

18 WHEREAS, to reduce future hazards of heating oil tank leaks, The City of Seattle intends to 19 develop a plan to regulate heating oil tanks that will require owners to decommission or 20 replace with a modern tank by December 31, 2028; and

21 WHEREAS, the City Council recognizes that the requirement to replace or decommission 22 heating oil tanks may pose a financial burden to middle-income and fixed-income

1 households, renters, and seniors, and commits to reducing the financial burden of 2 converting from oil to electric heat; and

3 WHEREAS, the Washington State Pollution Liability Protection Act (chapter 70.149 RCW)
4 protects tank owners from the financial hardship related to damaged heating oil tanks 5 expires on July 1, 2030, and may require additional resources to fulfill claims from 6 Seattle as a result of implementing this requirement; and

7 WHEREAS, promoting the use of biodiesel allows for a bridge option for the approximately 8 17,000 heating oil customers that helps to protect nearly one hundred high-wage, local 9 union jobs for Teamsters Joint Council 28 and IBEW Local 46; and

10 WHEREAS, The City of Seattle intends to exercise its taxing authority, as granted by the 11 Washington State Constitution and as authorized by the Washington State Legislature, to 12 tax the business of selling heating oil in the City;

13 WHEREAS, a tax on businesses selling heating oil in Seattle will finance conversions from oil 14 heating systems to electric heating systems for low-income households, including those 15 participating the City's Utility Discount Program; NOW, THEREFORE,

16 BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY OF SEATTLE AS FOLLOWS:

21 B. The sale of biodiesel is exempt from the tax and the heating oil service provider shall 22 separately report to the City the heating oil and any biodiesel sales, if applicable. The tax shall

1 apply only to the portion of petroleum-based product when the heating oil contains a blend of 2 biodiesel.

2 reduce carbon emissions caused by the sale and use of heating oil, including but not limited to 3 the following:

4 1. Financial assistance to households to encourage conversion of an oil-fired
