Legislation Title:

AN ORDINANCE related to the Immigrant and Refugee Commission; authorizing a Get Engaged young adult position to the Immigrant and Refugee Commission; and amending Section 3.14.545 of the Seattle Municipal Code.

Summary of the Legislation:

Adds a “Get Engaged” Commissioner to the Immigrant and Refugee Commission.

Background:

Consistent with the other commissions at the city, the Immigrant and Refugee Commission ordinance needs to be amended to allow for a commissioner to be part of the “Get Engaged” program at the YMCA. The YMCA supports commissioners who are youth applicants throughout the year.

Started in 2001, Get Engaged is dedicated to cultivating the next generation of leaders and advocating for the influence of young voices in city affairs. Get Engaged selects emerging leaders each year to serve on City of Seattle boards and commissions for a one-year term. In 2014, the Metrocenter YMCA agrees to expand the size of the Get Engaged volunteer cohort from 14 to 15 in order to add a member to the Immigrant and Refugee Commission.

The YMCA advocates for youth voice and young adult participation to advance the diversity and innovation of civic decision-making in Seattle. The YMCA will provide needed support for this additional volunteer position with no other expectations.
