Budget Action description:

This green sheet recommends amendment and passage of C.B. 117321, which would make various changes to the Department of Planning and Development's (DPD's) Fee Ordinance. The proposed amendment to C.B. 117321 would exempt transitional encampments for homeless persons from temporary use permit review fees.

The amendment requires a $4,000 General Fund contribution to the Land Use Services BCL to subsidize the cost to DPD of reviewing permit applications for transitional homeless encampments.

DPD estimates that a $4,000 General Fund contribution would subsidize permit review for approximately one temporary use permit application.

On October 3, 2011, the Council passed Ordinance 123729, which authorized transitional encampments as accessory uses to religious institutions in all zones. There is no permit process associated with establishing a transitional encampment accessory to a religious institution. Consequently, there is no fee for permit review.

Transitional encampments may be still be allowed as temporary uses for a period up to six months on sites that are not owned or controlled by religious institutions. However, those encampments must apply for a temporary use permit. Six-month temporary use permits are charged a permit review fee of $1,250 that covers the first five hours of review. Review exceeding five hours is charged at an hourly rate of $250 / hour. Additionally, applicants must pay for required public notice, which includes mailed notice to near neighbors and publication in the Daily Journal of Commerce and the Land Use Information Bulletin. Notice typically costs an additional $950. Since 2008 there has been one application for a six-month temporary use permit for a site not owned or controlled by a religious institution.

The proposed amendment adds a footnote to the land use fee table in Seattle Municipal Code section 22.900C.010 and is double underlined below.

Section 7. Effective January 1, 2012, or on the effective date of this ordinance, if after January 1, 2012, Section 22.900C.010 of the Seattle Municipal Code, last amended by Ordinance 123610, is amended as follows:
