Shannon Roach – Executive Director, The Recording Academy (NARAS), Pacific NW Chapter NARAS, 159 Western Ave. W. Ste 485, Seattle, 98119

Shannon Roach is an Executive Director at the Recording Academy (the GRAMMYS), where she leads the Pacific Northwest Chapter's efforts to celebrate, advocate for and support the music industry. The PNW Chapter offers networking and professional development opportunities to industry professionals, supports emerging talent through programs such as Grammy Career Day and GrammyU, and actively advocates for the MusiCares Foundation.

Shannon was previously the Managing Director of Seattle's Vera Project, a wildly popular all-ages, youth-focused, volunteer-fueled music and arts non-profit. As the Managing Director of Vera, Shannon was responsible for developing capacity to insure organizational stability and strategic direction that is responsive to the needs and interests of the Seattle community, especially related to music, art, youth and civic engagement.

Shannon's other experience includes work with such esteemed arts organizations as Redmond's Old Fire House, The Henry Gallery, and On the Boards Theater. In her spare time, Shannon likes to hang out with her son Austin "Tiny" Roach, enjoy live music and art, eat good food, and travel to places where she can swim in the ocean.

Adrian Burton – Founder and President, eMedia Music Corp.
eMedia Music Corp., 664 NE Northlake Way, Seattle, 98105

Adrian founded eMedia in 1994 and has served as President since then. He manages all aspects of the business including product development, strategic planning, sales/marketing, business development and operations. eMedia Music primarily develops and publishes music education software. eMedia often distributes instruments bundled with their educational software and also distributes a variety of music software from other publishers.

Adrian briefly consulted for the financial industry after college, then worked at Microsoft from 1990-1994 as a Program Manager and Software Design Engineer. He has been a member of Social Venture Partners (network of accomplished individuals who combine financial contributions and professional skills with a passion for philanthropy) for several years, a member of Wolfgang (Seattle Symphony Supporters) and continues to be involved with Seattle Works "hands-on" community service projects.

Adrian is also a board member of MusicWorks Northwest (community music school with scholarships for disadvantaged youths) and is the founding and current member of the Board of Directors of Court of Last Resort (non-profit organization dedicated to drawing public attention to miscarriages of justice) and maintains membership with the EO (Entrepreneurs Organization).

Adrian's industry involvement includes longstanding membership in NAMM (National Association of Music Merchants), MENC (National Association for Music Education), and support for GAMA (Guitar and Accessories Marketing Association), whose summer workshops for guitar teachers have resulted in hundreds of thousands of new guitar players.
