WORK EXPERIENCE

Executive Director

NW Energy Coalition

219 First Avenue South, Suite 100

Seattle, Washington 98104

November 1993 to present

Report to Board Chair, William Eddie, Advocates for the West, Boise, Idaho

Chief executive of NW Energy Coalition, an alliance of more than 100 environmental, consumer, low-income and civic public interest groups; clean energy businesses; labor unions and progressive electric and gas utilities. The Coalition advocates energy efficiency, renewable energy, low-income weatherization, consumer protection and restoration of fish and wildlife in the Columbia River Basin as the foundations of a clean and affordable energy future for the Northwest. The Coalition covers Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana and British Columbia. The Executive Director manages the resources of the Coalition's staff of 11 in Seattle, Portland and Boise and mobilizes member organizations to achieve the Coalition's goals.

Major Coalition accomplishments under my direction include

- * Doubling membership, expanding constituencies and increasing utility membership
- * Achieving Coalition policy consensus on difficult issues from cheap electricity for aluminum to gasified coal electric generation
- * Launching the Renewable Northwest Project and Climate Connections
- * Securing over $35 million for low-income weatherization
- * Ensuring nearly total reliance on energy efficiency and wind to meet all load growth for 20 years in the Northwest Power & Conservation Council's 5th Power & Conservation Plan

Various Positions in Energy Conservation Policy and Planning

Seattle City Light

January 1978 to November 1993

Program Development Section Manager, March 1991-November 1993. My section was responsible for long- and short-range conservation planning, analysis of conservation technical potential, R&D projects, management of major program demonstrations such as the Lighting Design Lab, energy conservation in City Light's integrated resource plans, policy representation and regulatory development. My staff varied from 18 to 28.

Energy Planning Supervisor, August 1980-March 1991. My unit was responsible for conservation policy analysis and representation to local, state, regional and federal decision makers, the conservation section of integrated resource plans, City energy code and utility energy efficiency requirements development, and negotiation of conservation contracts with the Bonneville Power Administration ($20 million in 10 years). Staff varied from six to 10.

Policy Analyst, January 1978-August 1980. I was responsible for legislative, regulatory and policy analyses including an amendment to the Washington Constitution to allow publicly owned utilities to lend money for weatherization and an administrative rule making for residential electric service efficiency standards. For 10 months during this time, I was acting Director of the Office of Conservation with full responsibility for 25 staff charged with planning, research and evaluation of utility conservation programs.

Other Work Experience: 1967-1978

Tutor for the University of Washington's Office of Minority Affairs
Clinical law student in the Urban Law Institute in Washington, D.C.
