Amoreena R. Miller, LEED® AP
Principal, Strata Architects

As an Architect, I have over 18 years experience in architecture, interior and urban design. Although proficient in leading large scale mixed use, high-density housing and community development projects, my experience also includes small housing projects, commercial tenant improvements and single family remodels. My experience with the design process; project management and the preparation of contract documents assists clients with achieving permits in a timely manner while creating design solutions that clients will be happy with in the long term.
