Bruce Lorig

RESUME

Founder and Co- Owner

Lorig Associates

Bruce founded Lorig Associates in 1972 and has since guided the company's growth and evolution into a leading real estate development firm in the Pacific Northwest. Bruce is known for his vision, attention to detail, design skills, and his ability to manage highly complex transactions. The results of Bruce's vision can be seen throughout the Northwest, from the Queen Anne High School Apartments, the Market Place North near Pike Place Market to Uwajimaya Village in the International District and most recently Thornton Place at Northgate and Green Lake Village. Bruce has earned a reputation for being the developer who can figure out the most complicated deals, even after other developers have tried and failed.

Bruce has developed numerous mixed-use projects including condominiums, office, parking garages and retail. He has also successfully renovated seven properties listed on the National Register of Historic Places, most notably Queen Anne High School, Wallingford Center, and the Thurston County Courthouse.

Bruce has worked in public/private partnership with agencies such as the Seattle School District, the City of Seattle, Historic Seattle Preservation and Development Authority, the Seattle Housing Authority, the University of Washington, the State of Washington, the national Development Council, and the City of Eugene. Many of these projects involved balancing neighborhood and special interest needs with public goals and development requirements.
