RESOLUTION 31851

A RESOLUTION addressing the proposed Pebble Mine in Alaska's Bristol Bay, and urging the Trump administration to undergo the appropriate environmental review, economic assessment, and consultation with the public to protect the wide-ranging interests in the region, including that of Seattle's business community.

WHEREAS, Pebble Limited Partnership (PLP) has proposed building an open-pit gold and copper mine in Alaska's Bristol Bay ("Pebble Mine"), which, if built, would be the largest mine in North America; and

WHEREAS, open-pit mines across North America have a historic track record of leaking toxic tailings and pollutants into nearby surface and groundwater, and no mine the size of the proposed Pebble Mine has ever been built in a seismically active, sensitive environment without causing irreparable harm to nearby habitat and waters; and

WHEREAS, under the Obama administration, the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) concluded that "unacceptable adverse effects on fishery areas (including spawning and breeding areas) could result from the discharge of dredge or fill material associated with mining the Pebble deposit"; and

WHEREAS, it has been clearly demonstrated through nearly a decade of scientific review that the Pebble Mine will have significant and unacceptable impacts on Bristol Bay's salmon habitat, which supports world-class fisheries and Native subsistence cultures; and

WHEREAS, on December 22, 2017, PLP began to file for a critical federal permit with the Army Corps of Engineers, initiating scoping and a draft Environmental Impact Statement (EIS); and

1 WHEREAS, the Army Corps of Engineers has substantially expedited the scoping and 2 permitting process: skipping critical steps and timelines, providing insufficient 3 opportunities for public review in Alaska, and providing no public forums in Washington, 4 despite the waters, fish, and landscapes of Bristol Bay being critical resources for many 5 Seattle-area businesses and helping to generate tens of millions of dollars for Seattle each 6 year; and

7 WHEREAS, a draft EIS is expected in early 2019, just six months after the scoping period's end 8 and one year sooner than standard process; and

9 WHEREAS, Seattle-based industries such as restaurants, seafood processing, outdoor recreation, 10 and commercial fishing have voiced their strong opposition to this project and have thus 11 far been ignored by the Trump administration; and

12 WHEREAS, The City of Seattle and the greater metropolitan area have a robust history of strong 13 economic ties to Alaska fisheries, including $3.3 billion in seafood income garnered by 14 residents and processing companies based in Puget Sound in 2013; and

15 WHEREAS, Bristol Bay is the world's largest salmon fishery and, during the record-breaking 16 2018 season, fishermen harvested over 40 million sockeye salmon, accounting for nearly 17 50 percent of the world's sockeye salmon supply; and

18 WHEREAS, the Seattle City Council has cited the significant economic and cultural importance 19 of wild salmon and salmon habitat protections to Seattle residents in multiple resolutions, 20 including but not limited to Resolution 31443, opposing genetically engineered salmon, 21 and Resolution 30850, regarding the daylighting of pipes and culverts to protect essential 22 salmon passage and habitat; and

1 WHEREAS, in addition to ignoring the concerns of Seattle businesses, the Trump administration 2 has ignored the concerns of the Native tribes of Bristol Bay; and

3 WHEREAS, the process being pursued by the Trump administration is one of the least scientific 4 and least transparent permitting processes the federal government has ever undertaken for 5 a mine of this size; and

6 WHEREAS, the new head of the Environmental Protection Agency, Andrew Wheeler, has a 7 conflict of interest due to his previous work lobbying on behalf of the Pebble Mine; and

8 WHEREAS, ignoring public process and the needs and value of businesses and tribes that rely 9 on Bristol Bay's clean waters and sustainable fisheries in favor of profits for foreign 10 mining companies is not only short-sighted, but moves our nation further away from 11 energy independence and our goals to mitigate climate change; and

12 WHEREAS, Bristol Bay salmon are caught by Seattle-based fishers and served by Seattle 13 restaurants and retailers, powering more than 3,160 Washington jobs each year and 14 generating $580 million in economic impact to the state; and

15 WHEREAS, the Seattle Restaurant Alliance and dozens of Seattle businesses have joined the 16 Businesses for Bristol Bay coalition to urge the administration not to pick winners and 17 losers in our economy and to refrain from allowing the mining industry to negatively 18 impact the businesses that call Seattle home and rely on Bristol Bay;

19 NOW, THEREFORE,

20 BE IT RESOLVED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SEATTLE, THE 21 MAYOR CONCURRING, THAT:

22 Section 1. The Seattle City Council is deeply concerned by the destruction of natural 23 habitats by mining in general and is specifically troubled by the proposed Pebble Mine in Bristol

1 Bay, Alaska. The Seattle City Council requests the Office of Intergovernmental Relations to 2 communicate this resolution to the federal government, including the White House, 3 Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, U.S. Office of the 4 Interior, Senator Patty Murray, and Senator Maria Cantwell.

5 Section 2. The Seattle City Council requests that the federal permitting process for the 6 Pebble Mine be suspended until sufficient environmental and scientific data can be collected to 7 understand its potential impacts on the waters of Bristol Bay.

8 Section 3. The Seattle City Council requests that all current and future federal permitting
9 processes for the proposed Pebble Mine include sufficient opportunities for input by Native 10 tribes and by the people and businesses of Seattle, many of whom rely upon Bristol Bay and its 11 waters.

1 Adopted by the City Council the 29th day of October, 2018,
2 and signed by me in open session in authentication of its adoption this 29th day of 3 October, 2018.

4

5 President _____ of the City Council

6 The Mayor concurred the 2ND day of November, 2018.
